THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President Appoints [Thursday,
November 28th.

By the President of the United States—A Proclamation.

The recurrence of that season at which it is the habit of our people to make devout and public confession of their constant dependence on Divine favor for all good gifts of life and happiness, and of public peace and prosperity, as exhibited in the record of the year, the abundant harvests for our grateful and thanksgiving, the exuberant harvests, the productive mines, ample crops, of the staples of trade and manufacture, which have enriched the country, the resources thus far furnished to our reviving industry and expanding commerce, when discord and distress through the length and breadth of the land will, under the continuing favor of Providence, be a thing of the past, and peace and energy and assured prosperity, peace with all nations has remained unbroken; domestic tranquility has prevailed, and the institutions of liberty and justice which the wisdom and virtue of our fathers established, remain the glory and the defense of their children. The general prevalence of the blessings of health throughout our wide land has made more conspicuous the sufferings and sorrows which the dark shadow of pestilence has cast on a portion of our people. This heavy affliction, even the Divine Ruler has tempered with the suffering communities by the universal sympathy and succor which have flowed to their relief, and the whole nation may rejoice in the unity of spirit in our people by which they cheerfully share one another's burdens.

Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do appoint Thursday, the 28th day of November next, as a day of National Thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, the people of the United States do meet together on this day in their respective places of worship, there to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for His mercies, and to devoutly beseech His continued blessing.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 30th day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and the independence of the United States one hundred and third.

R. B. HAYES,
By the President.

WM. M. EVANS, Secretary of State.

THE VOTE IN ROCK COUNTY.

As compared with two years ago, the vote in Rock county was light, but as compared with four years ago, it was fully up to the average. It is always full in all counties in a Presidential year, but falls off in other years. Considering the number of votes cast, the Republican majorities are large, and the victory more significant than any the party has won for years. The Democratic vote also fell off, and over two years ago, they gained in only five towns, the largest gain being made in Clinton. In Fulton, the Republican loss was 108, and the Democratic 110. In Plymouth there was a great falling off, not much more than half of the voters going to the polls. The difference, however, in the other towns is not striking. The Republican vote was fully up to that of 1874, and in several towns it was much larger. The wanting of the mass of the Democratic vote with that of Greenback, was expected to materially effect the Republican majorities, but the Republicans stood firm, and the result is a surprise to the Democratic-Greenback party. The total vote in the county will be about 5,800.

THE REPORTS FROM WISCONSIN.

The reports from this State continued to be exceedingly encouraging to Republicans. While the Congressional delegation remains unchanged, the majorities of the three Democratic candidates have been surprisingly cut down. For instance, in the Milwaukee District, where the Democratic majority is nearly 5,000, Dunster is elected by only 157 majority. Bragg's is also cut down, and so is Bouck's in the Sixth. Mr. Williams' in the First, will be largely increased over that of four years ago, and Caswell in the Second, who was elected two years ago by 325 majority, now receives over two thousand. Hazelton in the Third is re-elected by a less majority than in 1876. Humphrey and Pound are also re-elected and by increased majorities.

The Legislature, which was Democratic-Greenback last year, will now be strongly Republican in both branches. This shows that the people are opposed to a Democratic United States Senator, that being made an issue in many parts of the State. There is another significant fact connected with the election. More Republican county officers were elected than ever before. Counties which rarely elect a Republican to an office, have elected every man on the ticket, and by very flattering majorities. The result in Milwaukee and Dane are cases in point. Everything being considered, the Republicans of Wisconsin have done themselves great honor. They have put their foot on fatism and repudiation, and have killed Democratic-Greenbackism in this State.

A SOLID SOUTH.

The latest returns from the South indicate that the Democrats have made a clean sweep of the Congressional fields. This is not a surprise. It was what was expected, when the Republicans—white and black—were notified that they could not hold political meetings, and that they would not be permitted to press the claims of their candidates. They tried to hold meetings, endeavored to defend their candidates against the attacks of Democratic speakers, but the Republicans were confronted with bayonets, shot guns, knives, and pistols, and were thus compelled to let the canvass go by default. The fact that under this system of political warfare the Democratic cut-throats of the South have carried every Congressional District, is not at all surprising. They could do nothing less. Republicans could not vote for Republican candidates without placing their lives and their property in jeopardy, and therefore in very many Districts no opposition was made to the Democratic nominations. The result is not a victory. It is simply the reign of terror and the triumph of wrong over right. This condition of things does not give the Democratic press of the North an occasion for rejoicing. The party has been badly beaten in the Northern States, where free speech is permitted, where a press is unshackled, and where the ballot is free to every qualified voter, the Republicans and honest money principles, achieve a vic-

WISCONSIN.

The Latest Returns of Tuesday's Election—The Republican Majority in the Legislature.

Special to the Gazette.
MADISON, Nov. 7.—The full returns from Grant county give Hazelton seven hundred majority. Every Republican candidate is elected in that county by majorities ranging from one hundred to seven hundred, and elect all members of the Legislature as follows: William E. Carter, five hundred and sixty-six majority; Judge Mills, seven-hundred and sixty; and John Bradley, one hundred and seventy-five majority.

Hazelton, in the Third District, is re-elected to Congress by about two hundred and fifty majority.
Later returns show better and better on the Legislature. The Republican majority, on joint ballot, will reach twenty-five.

ILLINOIS.

The Republicans Gain Two Congressmen and a Majority in the Legislature.

Special to the Gazette.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Democrats concede the Legislature to the Republicans, who will have a majority of five over all. The Republicans gain two Congressmen and possibly three.

GONE UP.

Special to the Gazette.
GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 7.—The National Enquirer, a Greenback paper, has suspended. A chattel mortgage was held on it by Henry L. Smith, the Greenback candidate for Governor. The defeated candidate seized the office, and stopped publication.

STEWART'S BODY.

Body-Snatchers Steal the Body of A. T. Stewart—An Effort to Recover the Body.

Special to the Gazette.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The body of A. T. Stewart was stolen last night, by body snatchers, from the family vault in St. Marks Church yard, inasmuch as the body is much decomposed, it is believed that it can not be concealed very long. The casket was broken open. No doubt the object was to receive a reward. Judge Hilton has notified the police, and diligent search is being made for the body.

WASHINGTON.

The Next Presidential Election—The Bearing of the Results of Tuesday's Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A Washington special says: "The results of yesterday's election continue to be the all-absorbing topic of comment in Washington political circles this evening. Republicans are jubilant, and Democrats correspondingly depressed, not only in regard to the effect upon the ordinary political power of their respective parties in the next Congress, but on account of the prospective bearing of these results upon the next election for President. The Republican gains are on all hands attributed to two causes—first, and chiefly, the united stand taken in favor of hard money by the Republican party, and secondly the indignation and alarm created in the North by the solidification of the South through such means as those employed by Wade Hampton's followers in South Carolina with their high-handed claims of right to divide the time of Republican meetings, etc., with reference to the coming Presidential election. Republicans argue that the electoral votes of States which have this fall given Republican majorities on State tickets, are quite certain to be cast for the next Republican President and on this basis they will have a clear majority, with about twenty electoral votes to spare."

TAMMANY HALL.

What the New York Press Say of the Results of the Election.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—All the journals except the Star are jubilant over the result of the elections and the overthrow of Tammany Hall. The Sun says: "We congratulate the people of the city, without regard to party and including Tammany voters, on the triumph of yesterday. Every man's welfare has been advanced by it, and the whole city will enjoy the benefit of it. We congratulate, also, the people of the State and of the whole country, that a power so dangerous to public liberties has been prostrated and crushed." The Democrats have encountered an overwhelming defeat in this State. Danforth, Republican, is confidently reported to be elected for Judge of the Court of Appeals. The result in the Legislature is an amazing triumph for Conkling. He will be returned to the Senate in January by a majority which will range somewhere between fifty and sixty.

NEVADA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 6.—Nothing has been received from Nevada to change previous estimates. The Republicans have undoubtedly elected all the State ticket, and will have a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot of about 15.

MINNESOTA.

Another State that Stands Firm with a Clean Delegation in Congress.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 6.—Returns today give sufficient basis for confident estimates of the general results in this State. Duncell, for Congress, in the First District, has probably 12,000 majority over Melcher, Greenbacker. In the Second District, the Democrats, Greenbackers and Nationalists have united on a Democratic candidate, Pochler, reducing Strait's majority to 1,200, and possibly less. Washburn; in the Third District, has not less than 4,000 majority. The Republican State ticket is carried by about 17,000 majority, and the Republican majority in the Legislature will be about as last year. Democracy and anti-reconstruction have been fairly repudiated on a square test.

THE NORTH.

The Tribune's Opinion of the Great Republican Victory of Tuesday.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Tribune, commenting upon the Congressional elections, says of the South and the National Administration: "Never was a defeated people so generously treated; never did a victorious administration make such sacrifices to conciliate its enemies and promote harmony. The renewal of bulldozing in South Carolina, Louisiana, and elsewhere has been one Southern response. The firm alliance between the solid South and the dangerous elements at the North for soft money and raids upon the National Treasury has been another. The Northern people have seen these responses, and the vote shows that they understood them."

FOREIGN.

What the London Papers Say of the Result.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Times to-day in a leader on the American elections says that now, as often before, the good sense of the American people has come to the rescue. The elections show that the most potent forces in the Republic are on the side of financial and social conservatism.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Butler's Defeat—The Gubernatorial Vote in the Bay State.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The result of yesterday's vote for Governor in 336 towns foot up: Talbot, 134,108; Butler, 108,321; Abbott, 9602; Minor, 1967. Talbot carries every district in the State by a handsome majority except three Boston districts. The eight towns to hear from will carry Talbot's plurality up to 26,000 over Butler. The result in the Sixth Congressional district is still in doubt. The Journal claims Loring, Republican, by 141 majority. The Newburyport Herald's figures elect Boynton, Greenbacker, by 66 majority. The Herald however remarks that it cannot say who is elected.

BUTLER'S "BAR'L."

The Greenbackers Must Take the Essex Statesman for President.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Walter H. Shupe, editor of the Greenback organ, the Advocate, says the Greenback party will be compelled to take General Butler as its leader in the Presidential election. His candidacy for the Governorship of Massachusetts has, according to Shupe, cost Butler $250,000, and, if he runs for President on the Greenback ticket, it would cost him 1,000,000 more; but he could stand that, as he is worth $5,000,000.

FIRE AT BARABOO.

Extent of Yesterday's Fire at Baraboo—The Loss and Insurance.

BARABOO, Wis., Nov. 6.—A fire occurred here this morning at 7 o'clock, destroying the entire eastern side of the public square, with the exception of one building. Among the losers are Mrs. Wright, Western Hotel, $5,000; C. T. Fannstiel, barber, $5,000; Savage & Haled, dry goods, $4,000; R. Burrington, dry goods, $3,500; Ryan, jeweler, $2,500; Tupper, saloon, $2,000; Sumner Building, $500. No insurance of consequence.

WAR IN OREGON.

A War Between the Whites and Chinese in Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 5.—A Portland dispatch says that in a fight between about twenty whites and sixty Chinese operatives, in the woolen mills at Oregon City, the former were the aggressors. Several were severely hurt on both sides. One Chinaman was probably fatally shot. The authorities finally quelled the disturbance, but fears are entertained of an early renewal of hostilities.

A DUSKY BELLE.

Who is Responsible for a Pair of Murderers, Near Fond du Lac.

FOND DU LAC, Nov. 6.—In Brothertown, at a dance, the night before election, an Indian killed a rival for the favor of a dusky belle, by mashing in his head with a stick of cord wood. No arrests so far.

OBITUARY.

Special to the Gazette.
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Alfred Dutch, an old journalist, died to-day.

MONTE CRISTO'S DAUGHTER.

Marie Alexandre Dumas and Her Unlucky Affliction.

A writer in London Truth of October 10, giving an account of Marie Alexandre Dumas, daughter of the oldest novelist of that name, or "Monte Cristo's Daughter," as she was fond of calling herself, who died recently, after spending some years in a convent, says: "Marie Alexandre Dumas was one of the unhappy class of bearded women. In her lifetime it would have been far from me to allude to her affliction. But she has left no children, and her ill-fated half-brother and she were not on speaking terms for eight years previous to her death. Mulatto women are more often cruel than men. Marie Alexandre belonged to the plain majority. Her great intellect and her great goodness threw no beautifying beam upon her countenance, which had the most pronounced features, and all out of harmony with each other, of the Jewish, negro, and Norman races. The eyes of pale turquoise blue stood out from their orbits. They expressed the faculty for learning languages, but they impressed the beholder with the painful idea of strangulation. There was a patch of coarse red in the yellow cheeks, which, in cold weather, became bluish. The nose was heavy and aquiline, and the mouth pure African. An even, white set of teeth were the one redeeming point. The figure, which was separated from the head by a virile neck, brawny as that of the femme a barbe, was grace and symmetry themselves, and never lost elasticity or youthfulness of outline. Marie Alexandre Dumas married twenty-eight years ago a M. Petel, who went out of his mind the day after the wedding. He was taken from the bridal chamber to be confined in a lunatic asylum. When he came out he refused to see his wife, and in speaking of her, did not show the reserve which was to have been expected from a man of his education. It was his duty, according to the French code of gentlemanly manners, to have kept silence about her neck, and to have stood to her in the relation of a friend whose interests were identical with his.

"A French gentleman rarely forgets that if he is not to close the eyes of his wife and bury her, she will be called upon to perform these melancholy duties to him. The hopeless grass widow had affairs of the heart which ended cruelly for her. Charlotte Bronte's 'Jane Eyre' inspired her with a passion for a manufacturer of chemical products, who was also a savant and homme de lettres. His fortune was considerable, and he had lost his eyes in a factory explosion. It was this fact, coupled with his personal qualities, which gave him value in her estimation. She loved him with her readings of Lamartine and De Musset, and her sympathetic conversation. Things converged toward a Rochester and Jane Eyre denouement when the wife came back. This spoiler of a romance, that was being built up, was a pretty woman of the husky tribe, who had run away from the conjugal domicile to Mexico. The news of the husband's calamity called out a feeling of tenderness for him, and brought her back to Paris to claim him as her own. The memory of her claims softened the heart of the man she had betrayed, and she had the address to make him believe he was falling into the hands of a sharp, money-loving woman whom nature had expressly created to afford amusement to peasants at village fetes. Religion chased away the suicidal ideas into which the dame barbe fell, and Victor Hugo, hearing of her cruel disappointment, conceived the plot of 'L'Homme qui Rit.'

Beware of Cheap Excitants.

And use, if you need a tonic stimulant and alternative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The liquors of commerce, even when they are not adulterated, fall to produce more than a temporary exhilaration, usually followed by a depressing reaction, anything but beneficial to a weakly constitution. Not only do the potent botanic ingredients combined with the alcoholic of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters minister to the health and vigor of those who use it, but the basis—pure old rye, the finest and most salubrious liquor distilled, is no mean promoter of a healthful condition of the digestive organs. Its presence in the Bitters is essential to preserve their vegetable constituents from fermentation, and it unquestionably augments their remedial value. Few medicinal preparations of a proprietary nature have ever received such strong commendations from medical men.

TEXAN ROBBERS.

A Janesville Lady One of the Passengers in a Stage which was Robbed by Masked Highwaymen.
Miss Louie Conrad, a cousin of Charlie Conrad, writes from Texas that she has been one of the victims of a stage robbery. The particulars will prove of interest to her many friends and acquaintances here. It appears that she started one morning recently from Fort Worth, to go by stage to Fort Griffin, a distance of about 160 miles, where her brother is. The journey was reasonably pleasant until about two hours after dinner, when, as they were riding along, three masked men, jumped from an ambush beside the road, and one jumped upon the step of the coach door on one side, another on the other side while a third stopped the driver. All three presented revolvers to the heads of the passengers, and as soon as the stage was stopped, made all dismount and turn over their valuables. Miss Conrad gave up her purse containing about $100. Two gentlemen who were in the coach were relieved of about $65. Another passenger who was seated beside the driver had $3,000 with him, but he was quick enough to drop this between the cushions, so that it was overlooked by the robbers, who went off content with his pocket-book containing a small sum. The stage was then allowed to proceed. Miss Conrad says that her attention was particularly drawn to the elegance of the weapons which they had. Their revolvers were mounted much more richly than anything she had ever seen, and so carried away with their appearance, that she thoughtlessly asked one of the masked robbers to let her see it a minute. She wanted to inspect its beauty more closely, but the robber, of course, preferred to keep it to his hand.

SHED YOUR SHELLS.

The annual meeting of the Bower City Boat Club will be held to-morrow evening at A. C. Bates' office. The meeting will be an important one and there should be a full attendance. Besides the annual reports of the Coxswain and Treasurer, some important business will be transacted. The Club is in a prosperous condition, it being out of debt, and owns two fine boats besides other property, and the members number thirty. There is a clause in the by-laws by which all members not paid up on stock at the fall meeting lose the same. There are a few behind and unless they pay up by to-morrow night they will lose their stock. Under the rules, E. B. Heimstreet now becomes the sole owner and proprietor of the silver cup, offered for the champion in single scull races. The winner of the cup by the rules, is obliged to hold it one season, and as Mr. Heimstreet has done that, the cup is his.

DEATH OF JOHN JAMESON.

This forenoon Mr. John Jameson died at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. John Decker, on Jackson street, in the First ward. Mr. Jameson has been sick less than two weeks with typhoid fever, previous to which time he had been blessed with good health. He was a young man and had no family, but leaves many friends who will mourn the loss thus caused to the social and business circles of this city. He has only been a resident of this city a little more than a year, he having come hither from Harmony, where his parents reside, and where he had lived for many years. He was a member of the firm of Jameson & Decker, grocers, and in his business was enterprising and honorable. Socially he was affable and accommodating, and during his short stay in this city, won many friends, who will regret deeply his comparatively sudden death.

A GOLDEN WEDDING.

Last evening there was a pleasant gathering at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Beebe, on Franklin street. The affair was a surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Beebe, their friends having quietly perfected the arrangements and chosen this time as most appropriate to show their good will, it being their golden wedding anniversary. Music and social chat served to make the hours speed lightly by, and appropriate gifts were made, including about fifty dollars in honest gold money. The presentation was made in very appropriate language by Rev. Mr. Sewell. The occasion will serve to make this milestone on life's journey long to be remembered.

THE ELECTION AT BELOIT.

Further returns from Beloit show that a tight vote was cast, it numbering but 584. Williams carried the First ward by 49 and the Second by 101, while Parker carried the Third ward by 89, and the Fourth by 10, leaving Williams' majority in the city 51.

Richardson received a majority of 185 in the city, and Burdge a majority of 270. Comstock's majority for Sheriff, in the city, was 117. The balance of the Republican county ticket was carried by a majority ranging in the neighborhood of 200.

DEATH OF JOSEPH W. BURGESS.

The sad news comes from La Prairie that Joseph W. Burgess died there this morning, of heart disease. Mr. Burgess has only been ill for two weeks. He was one of the most substantial and well-known farmers in this county, and during his long residence in La Prairie has ever wielded a large influence and been greatly respected. He has many friends and acquaintances in this city as well as in the county, and their sympathies will be heartily extended to the mourning relatives.

AFTER NEW UNIFORMS.

The Janesville Guards have decided to take steps toward securing uniforms, which shall do credit to the organization and to the city which it represents. To this end they have been passing around subscription papers and many of our business and professional men have subscribed thereto. The militiamen are determined to push their organization to a successful completion, and in due course of time it is safe to expect that Janesville will have two as well-equipped and drilled companies as are to be found in the west.

INSPECTING THE INSTITUTE.

Yesterday a majority of the State Board of Charities and Reform made an official inspection of the Institute for the Blind. The visitors were A. E. Elmore, Dr. Reed, and H. H. Giles. They found all the workings of the institution to be satisfactory, and seemed greatly pleased with its management. Dr. Reed left for home last evening. The other two members remained until to-day.

SELLECK & CO.'S ART ENTERTAINMENT.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 5th, 1878.
Rev. T. P. Sawin:
My Dear Sir:—Our chapel was packed to-night, with young and old, in attendance on "Selleck & Co.'s Art Entertainment," and all were well entertained. Many of their views are exceedingly fine, and there is variety enough to hold the attention for an hour and a half. The light is powerful and well managed. The religious hymns interspersed, and the occasional comic scenes (which are all perfectly innocent) afford a pleasant relief. The lecture is, of course, a mere running commentary on the views, but the moral force of it is excellent. You can safely put this into your church, and tell the people to come, for it will give them a pleasant and profitable evening's entertainment.
Yours very truly,
C. H. RICHARDS.
